Policy Summary

This policy outlines the responsibilities of visitors — persons with scheduled appointments for a business function — and of USC hosts and employees, when someone temporarily enters the workplace. It covers check-in, escorting, illness or injury reporting, personal protective equipment, emergency assistance needs, and what happens if a visitor doesn't follow USC procedures.

Key Takeaways

- Applies to all persons with scheduled appointments for a business function, and to all USC employees; a "visitor" temporarily enters the workplace and may access areas generally off-limits to the public, but is not under contract.
- Visitors must check in at reception upon arrival, always be escorted by their designated USC host while in USC spaces, remain in designated areas, immediately report any illness or injury suffered to their host, wear applicable personal protective equipment, and notify their host if they require special assistance during an emergency evacuation.
- All USC employees must enforce this policy.
- Procedure: a visitor checks in at reception indicating who they are there to meet; the Executive Assistant or designate contacts the USC host to escort them to the meeting location; the host updates their calendar to include external visitor meetings for records management purposes.
- If a visitor reports an illness or injury, the visitor and USC host must complete the Illness/Injury Reporting Form and submit it to the USC Health & Safety Coordinator.
- If a visitor refuses to follow USC procedures as directed by their host, the host must ask the visitor to leave and report the incident to their manager.

Knowledge Check

4 situational questions to check understanding of this policy. An answer key follows on the next page.

Q1. A visitor becomes ill while meeting with their USC host. What must happen?

A. The visitor and USC host must complete the Illness/Injury Reporting Form and submit it to the USC Health & Safety Coordinator.

B. Only the host needs to make a private, informal note of it.

C. It only needs to be reported if the visitor requests medical attention.

D. The visitor should simply leave without any report being made.

Q2. A visitor repeatedly ignores directions from their USC host and refuses to follow USC procedures. What should the host do?

A. Continue the meeting and address it another time.

B. Ask the visitor to leave and report the incident to their manager.

C. Call Campus Police immediately, regardless of severity.

D. Simply end the meeting early, with no further action.

Q3. Once a visitor checks in, who is responsible for contacting the USC host to escort them?

A. Building Services.
B. The visitor must locate their host on their own.
C. The Executive Assistant or designate.
D. Any nearby employee.

Q4. Are visitors permitted to move freely around USC office spaces without an escort?

A. Yes, if they have visited before.
B. Only in common areas.
C. Yes, once they've checked in at reception.
D. No — visitors must always be escorted by their designated USC host while in USC spaces.

Answer Key

Q1: A — Section 4.4 requires the visitor and USC host to complete the Illness/Injury Reporting Form and submit it to the USC Health & Safety Coordinator.

Q2: B — Section 4.5 directs the host to ask the visitor to leave and report the incident to their manager if the visitor refuses to follow USC procedures.

Q3: C — Section 4.2 states the Executive Assistant or designate will contact the USC Host to escort the visitor to the designated meeting location.

Q4: D — Section 3.1.2 requires visitors to always be escorted by their designated USC host while in USC spaces.
